

STAFF CODE OF CONDUCT

Purpose

The Staff Code of Conduct provides the framework on the standards of conduct expected of staff at Lincoln Education Australia (LEA).

LEA is committed to providing a fulfilling working environment, and this commitment is underpinned by an expectation that staff conduct themselves in a manner consistent with LEA's values.

The purpose of this Code is to define the standards of behaviour by which all Staff agree to be bound as a condition of their employment and/or engagement with LEA.

This Code operates within the context of broader Australian State and Commonwealth laws about anti-discrimination and anti-harassment legislation, and in the context of other LEA policies and procedures.

Scope

This Staff Code of Conduct applies to LEA staff members, contractors, visitors to LEA premises, honorary appointees, volunteers, members of Boards and Committees, and others who may be engaged by or represent LEA's interests. In this policy "Staff" refers to any and all of these persons.

Principles

The Staff Code of Conduct has been formulated to provide a clear statement of LEA's expectations of its Staff in respect of their professional and personal conduct.

The Code reflects the objects of LEA, to advance education through the delivery of quality higher education to domestic and international students as approved by Australia's national regulator for higher education, and to promote academic excellence and social responsibility whilst supporting free intellectual inquiry in its academic endeavours.

All LEA Staff shall, in undertaking their roles, uphold and advance:

Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault

LEA takes a 'zero tolerance' approach to sexual harassment and assault by students and / or Staff.

Sexual harassment may include:

- staring or leering

LEA encourages the reporting of any incidents of sexual harassment. Incidents of sexual harassment shall be investigated, and perpetrators risk disciplinary action and/or termination of their engagement with LEA.

Sexual assault is any unwanted sexual behaviour that makes a person feel uncomfortable, threatened or scared. It encompasses:

- Rape – forced, unwanted sex or sexual acts

- Indecent assault – indecent behaviour before, during or after an assault

Sexual assault is a crime and shall be reported to police.

Further details can be found in LEA's Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault Policy and Procedures.

Academic Freedom

The obligations under this Code are not intended to detract from the concepts of intellectual and academic freedom and the rights of free speech. It is recognised and acknowledged that guarantees of intellectual and academic freedom are essential to the proper functioning of LEA as an institute of higher learning. These rights are linked to the responsibilities of LEA Staff and Students to support the role of LEA as a place of independent learning and thought where ideas may be put forward and opinions expressed freely.

Academic freedom, however, carries with it the duty of LEA Staff to use the freedom in a manner consistent with a responsible and honest search for and dissemination of knowledge and truth.

Further details can be found in LEA's Academic Freedom Policy.

Conflicts of Interest

LEA Staff are to avoid situations in which their private interests, whether pecuniary, personal or otherwise, might reasonably be thought to create a potential, perceived or actual Conflict of Interest with their duties to LEA. There is an expectation that individuals shall identify, declare and manage perceived, potential or actual conflicts of interest.

Any matter that could directly or indirectly compromise the performance of duties, or conflict with LEA's interests shall be immediately declared to the employee's manager or other senior employee in the first instance and steps taken to resolve the conflict situation. Where an Employee is unsure about the potential for a conflict, they should discuss the situation with their manager or other senior employee as appropriate.

Situations that may generate a conflict of interest can arise out of:

- Personal financial interests in matters which involve LEA
- Outside employment that may compromise the integrity of LEA
- Use of confidential Information obtained in the course of LEA duties
- External activities and public comment, i.e. nominating for and contesting political elections

Further details are provided in LEA's Conflict of Interest Policy & Procedures.

Any gift or benefit that cannot be considered as occasional and token should be declined stating that it is LEA's requirement that such gifts or benefits should not be accepted. If this is not possible because of the environment in which the gift or benefit is offered, the gift or benefit may be accepted on behalf of LEA, and it should then be retained by LEA and/or be used for the benefit of all Staff.

Staff who are in a position, in the course of their LEA work, to confer a benefit on a third party shall not accept a gift from that party.

Cash or gift vouchers shall not be accepted from any third party which derives a commercial benefit from a contractual relationship with LEA under any circumstances

Gifts may be accepted subject to the following:

- The recipient is satisfied that they cannot be compromised, or be seen as having been compromised, by doing so, and
- Where the value of the gift or benefit exceeds $250 it may be retained only if reported in the Register of Gifts and approved by the CEO (or the delegate)

Staff commenting publicly on an issue not in their field of their expertise should do so from a private address (whether postal or email) and not use LEA letterhead or emails.

If they wish to identify themselves as LEA Staff, they shall also indicate unambiguously that they are expressing their personal opinion and not presenting the opinion or position of LEA and shall not injure a person's reputation or create a basis for defamation action. In such cases, LEA shall not be responsible for any claims in defamation or otherwise that may follow such comment.

Emails sent on the LEA email system (including personal emails) remain the property of LEA at all times and may be accessed under court orders. Staff should be aware that LEA shall, from time to time, access its communication resources to ensure that use of these resources is appropriate for carrying out the functions of LEA.
