Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment

LEA has a “Zero Tolerance” policy on its campus towards sexual harassment and assault. As a student of LEA, you have the right to feel safe and secure at all times and to be able to fully participate in all aspects of life on campus. Anyone affected by sexual harassment and sexual assault is likely to experience a range of negative effects that is likely to have an impact on their studies and work. LEA is committed to ensuring that those affected are properly supported and provided with tools and the appropriate resources for them to succeed.

During the Orientation sessions on your first day at LEA, you will be provided with information on the prevention of sexual assault and sexual harassment and what to do if such incidents occur. For this purpose, LEA has developed the Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment Policy and Procedures guide you through the process, should you experience any form of harassment or bullying at LEA. This policy defines sexual harassment and sexual assault, what is meant by consent, establishes the principles on which LEA operates, and the procedures through which LEA aims to prevent incidents from occurring. Additionally, it details the procedures which victims of sexual harassment and/or sexual assault can make a report, what they can expect from LEA, and the disciplinary measures that may be applied. The policy also notes the circumstances in which LEA is obliged to involve outside authorities, and how records will be kept in order to maintain the privacy of those involved.

Whether the incident is recent or has happened in the past, on-campus or off-campus, we are here to support our students when they report incidents of sexual assault or sexual harassment. Contact us in person or via studentsupport@lincolnaustralia.nsw.edu.au to report the incident.

LEA Policies and Procedures

Academic Integrity

Students of LEA are required to undertake their academic studies honestly and ethically and are expected to carefully acknowledge the work of others in all their academic activities.

Breaches of academic integrity are classified into two categories – minor breaches (poor academic practice) and major breaches (academic misconduct).

Minor breaches are generally inadvertent or as a result of inexperience or lack of understanding, whilst serious breaches are committed with dishonest intentions.

Academic Misconduct is conduct that allows an individual or group to obtain an unfair advantage through unethical practices. Academic misconduct includes:

- Cheating,
- Collusion,
- Plagiarism, or
- Any other conduct

Academic misconduct includes any form of activity that negates the academic integrity of the student or another student and/or their work, that deliberately or inadvertently claims ownership of an idea or concept without acknowledging the source of the information.

Plagiarism occurs when:

- Other people's work and/or ideas are paraphrased and presented without a reference,
- Another students' work is copied or partly copied,
- Other people's designs, codes or images are presented as the student's own work,
- Phrases and passages are used verbatim without quotation marks and/or without a reference to the author or sources, and/or
- Lecture notes are reproduced without due acknowledgement

LEA uses Turnitin and other software to assist academic staff in determining if work has been plagiarised.

Cheating is when a student seeks to obtain an unfair advantage in an examination or in other written or practical work required to be submitted or completed for assessment.

Collusion (unauthorised collaboration) involves working with others without permission to produce work which is then presented as work completed independently by the student.

LEA will provide students with the necessary support and information to prevent instances of academic misconduct and avoid repeat instances of engaging in academic misconduct.

All instances of alleged misconduct will be:

- dealt with on its merits in consideration of the circumstances surrounding the case and in accordance with this policy
- confidentially investigated, and no record of misconduct will be associated with a student or staff member until the investigation is complete, and
- dealt with fairly and equitably and with due regard to the students' privacy and the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness

LEA requires all students to complete an online Academic Integrity Module in the first 4 weeks of the commencing semester. The training module is aimed at assisting students gain understanding and awareness of academic integrity and develop a culture of academic integrity.

Further details can be found in the LEA Academic Integrity and Misconduct Policy

Complaints and Appeals

LEA's Student Grievances, Complaints and Appeals Policy establishes the mechanisms by which LEA will handle student complaints and appeals. It outlines your rights and responsibilities and the procedures for making informal and formal complaints, as well as internal and external appeals. It also stipulates the processes followed for investigation, investigating officers and timeframes.

It is also designed to give you an understanding of when to escalate grievances and the processes through which mediation with a third party should be initiated, how complaints are to be dealt with objectively and fairly for all involved, and how LEA monitors closely any instances of regularly and punctually grievance reaching the level where external mediation becomes necessary.

The Student Grievances, Complaints and Appeals Flowchart details schematically the four stage complaints process, and internal and external appeals.

Before lodging a formal complaint, please ensure that you have read the Student Grievances, Complaints and Appeals Policy and followed Stage 1 of the student complaints procedure in the Student Grievances, Complaints and Appeals Flowchart.

Stage 1 - Informal Resolution

You are encouraged, wherever possible, to resolve your grievance informally with the staff member concerned. You may raise a grievance informally by contacting the Student Experience team or your lecturer.

Stage 2 - Formal Complaint

If the grievance is not resolved to your satisfaction at the informal resolution stage, you can lodge a formal complaint using the Student Complaints and Appeals form. You will be notified in writing of the outcome within 10 days of receipt by LEA of the completed Student Complaints and Appeals Form. If you are unhappy with the way your complaint is handled, you may be able to appeal the outcome internally or lodge a complaint with an external organisation.

Stage 3 - Internal Appeal

If you decide to appeal a determination, you must lodge a written Notice of Appeal within ten (10) working days being notified of the determination in Stage 2.

International students who may be subject to an Intention to Report Letter related to unsatisfactory academic progress, shall be informed that they have 20 working days to access the appeals process.

The appeal needs to specify what outcome you are seeking, set out the grounds of your appeal, and provide evidence supporting the grounds of appeal or any new information not previously provided in support of your complaint.

You will not incur any costs for the appeals process and nor will you be discriminated against or victimised during the complaint process.

Stage Four – External Appeal

An external appeal can only be made after all internal appeal processes under this policy have been addressed. However, at any part in the complaints or appeals process you may refer the matter to an external agency.

If you wish to appeal the decision of the internal appeal, you have four (4) weeks to request an external review from the date of the letter notifying you of the outcome of LEA's decision of your appeal.

You may request mediation or an external review through the Resolution Institute <https://www.resolution.institute/>

Please note that applying for an external review with the Resolution Institute shall incur a fee which will be shared equally. For details on the fees, you should contact the Resolution Institute.

No further appeals shall be accepted after mediation.

You may also want to contact the Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA) for certain types of complaints. More information can be found currently at <https://www.teqsa.gov.au/complaints>.

International Students may also contact the Overseas Student Ombudsman (<http://www.ombudsman.gov.au/How-we-can-help/overseas-students>).

If the external appeal agency contacts LEA, then during the duration of the external appeal the student shall not be reported to the Department of Home Affairs nor have their enrolment cancelled until the process has been completed or the student withdraws their external appeal. Students should note that their visa may be affected in the event that their Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) lapses during the period of external appeal.

- LEA implementing its intervention strategy for students who were at risk of not meeting satisfactory course progress, or
- An approved deferment or suspension of study has been granted under Standard 13 of the National Code 2018.

Critical Incidents

LEA is fully committed to safeguarding its staff, students, and campus environment, and will do its utmost to preserve the health, safety, and security of all stakeholders.

A critical incident is a sudden event or situation which may cause a student and/or staff major stress, fear or injury and may be regarded as outside the normal range of experience of the people affected. Each critical incident needs to be carefully assessed and managed in line with cultural sensitivities for student(s) impacted and their families.

More details of how we assess and handle critical incidents can be found in LEA's Critical Incident Management Plan.
